Knowland Sees Early Study Of Changes In Senate Probe Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland said today proposed changes in rules for Senate investigating committees "undoubtedly will be taken up" early in the next session of Congress.

U.N. Awaits Red Reply On Yanks

Hammaraskjold Seeks Talks With Peiping

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and his aides settled down today to a spell of watchful waiting for an answer from Red China on Hammarskjold's proposed free-the-fliers trip to Peiping.

There was no comment immediately from U. N. officials on a Peiping radio broadcast early today asserting that the United Nations "has no right to interfere with China's sentencing of the American spies."

The broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, made no direct reference to Hammarskjold's cable to Premier Chou En-lai Friday night proposing that they meet in Peiping soon after Dec. 26 to discuss the case of the fliers and all other U. N. personnel still held captive.

The radio blast repeated Peiping's previous charges, which the Soviet Union had aired in the U. N. Assembly, that the jailed Americans had "sneaked into China by air to carry out espionage" and that "it is China's... sovereign right of punishing spies."

The U. N. Assembly has approved the U. S. contention that the fliers were prisoners of war entitled to release under the Korean armistice.

Regarding Peiping's failure so far to reply to Hammarskjold's cable, a U. N. spokesman said last night that the secretary general would not be disappointed if several days elapsed before a formal answer came.

"The answer may come directly, it may come roundabout," the spokesman said.

He added that it was too soon to think about setting a deadline for a reply.

Mayor's Office Fines, Forfeits Total $75

Two motorists cited for traffic violations paid a total of $35 and costs following hearings before Mayor Dean B. Crammer over the weekend. Two other drivers forfeited a total of $40 when they failed to appear for hearings.

James F. Turcotte, 20, of Cleveland, arrested for operating an unsafe vehicle, was fined $25, and Keene Alton Bridgeman, 22, of Alliance paid a $10 fine for speeding.

Paul Warren, 32, of Canton, charged with failure to observe the assured clear distance, was fined $15; William Crawford, 62, of Pittsburgh forfeited $25 on a charge of passing without the assured clear distance.

We wish to thank all our friends for their many kind expressions of sympathy during our bereavement. Only those who have been shown similar loving kindness when they most needed it can understand our feelings toward all of you.

Ike To Outline Legislative Plan To GOP Leaders

Sen. Knowland Says Proposals Could Decide '56 Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—A meeting of President Eisenhower and Republican congressional leaders took an unexpected turn today with a 45-minute discussion of foreign affairs.

The President called the GOP leaders to the White House to outline the administration's 1955 legislative proposals. Eisenhower had indicated in advance—though he did not say so specifically—the meeting would deal with domestic issues.

In announcing plans for the meeting at his news conference last Wednesday, the President also disclosed Democratic leaders who will be in charge of the new Congress will join Republicans at a conference tomorrow to discuss foreign policy.

The chief executive pledged after the November elections, which gave the Democrats control, there would be bipartisan consultation on international affairs.

At that time the President also said he intended to confer with the Democrats on domestic issues. Since then the White House has placed less emphasis on that phase of the program.

An hour and a half after the start of today's meeting with the Republican leaders, Secretary of State Dulles left the White House and told newsmen he had just spent 45 minutes briefing the GOP chiefs on foreign affairs. He declined to provide any details.

In response to questions, Dulles said Secretary of Defense Wilson took over as the speaker when he left.

Republican Senate Leader Knowland of California, who has split with the administration on some foreign policy questions, said in advance of today's meeting he expected to provide some details.

Family Arrives In Honolulu; Reported Lost

HONOLULU (AP)—Amazed to hear they had been reported missing on their 48-day sailing to Japan, Dr. Earl L. Reynolds and his family are so pleased over the trip that they plan to continue around the world.

The 44-year-old U.S. atomic scientist had never sailed in deep water before he set out from Takamatsu, Japan, Oct. 26 in the 50-foot yacht Phoenix. Aboard were his wife, Barbara, two children, Jessica, 10, and Ted, 16, and three Japanese amateur crewmen, Nichi Mikami, 31, Motosada Fushima, 23, and Mitsugu Suemitsu, 26.

They arrived here Saturday.

Dr. Reynolds, who was an anthropologist with the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission at Hiroshima, said they skirted two typhoons, weathered winter gales, but had a good sailing weather most of the time for their two-masted ketch. The Japanese Coast Guard had been trying to locate the yacht and there was some fear that it was lost. It had no radio transmitter although it had two receivers to pick up weather information.

The ketch will remain in Hawaii about three months. Then the scientist, who comes from Yellow Springs, Ohio, and his family will sail the Phoenix to Australia. From there they plan to cross the Indian Ocean, round the Cape of Good Hope, follow the coast of South America northward and visit the United States, then go through the Panama Canal and across the Pacific back to Japan.

"I estimate the entire voyage will take about three years," Reynolds says.

Sheppard Admits Some 'Sins' During Lifetime

Owen Lattimore's Lawyers Attack Two Indictments

Hearing Is Set Before Youngdahl On Pro-Red Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Owen Lattimore's attorneys sought in court arguments today to knock out a new two-count indictment against the controversial Far Eastern specialist.

They contended in advance briefs that "the sole issue... would be Lattimore's opinion of his opinions," but U. S. Dist. Atty. Leo A. Rover replied that the legal attack on the indictment "can be reduced to an objection to the mere fact that he was indicted."

The hearing set Rover once more before Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl, whom he had accused earlier in an affidavit of having "a fixed personal bias and prejudice" in favor of Lattimore and against the government. Youngdahl struck Rover's affidavit from the record as "scandalous" and refused to disqualify himself from hearing the case.

The new indictment alleges that Lattimore lied when he told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in 1952 that he (1) had never been a follower of the Communist line and (2) had never been a promoter of Communist interests.

It was returned after Judge Youngdahl had dismissed as too vague the key count of an earlier indictment which charged that Lattimore lied in denying that he was a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Red causes. The U. S. Court of Appeals upheld the dismissal by an 8-1 vote, but reinstated two other counts which Youngdahl had thrown out.

Lattimore has denied allegations of procommunism.

Garage Fire Destroys Two Cars In Lisbon

LISBON — Christmas toys were burned, a volunteer fireman was injured and two cars destroyed Saturday night in a $4,000 private garage blaze at 429 N. Jefferson St.

Sparks from a newly-installed coal stove were blamed for the fire which burned a 1953 Farm Bureau Insurance Co. sedan and a 1951 Ford sedan belonging to Robert Lower, the garage owner.

Lester Moore, 49, of 115 E. Pine St., was burned in the face and was treated for first and second degree burns, by a local physician.

Firemen said flames leaped back striking Moore when cold water from the hose hit the hot metal. Lower told Ralph Rose, fire department secretary, he had hidden toys for his children in the car trunk.

Expensive woodworking equipment was endangered at the Cribfield Construction Co. located 20 feet from the burning structure, but firemen prevented the flames' spread. Heat blistered the end of the concrete building.

Rose said Lower was washing his car in the afternoon in the garage and lit the coal stove to keep warm. The fire is believed to have started about 7 p. m. while Lower was in his home nearby. It was discovered about 9 by Merle Cribfield, a neighbor, who saw smoke rolling from the rafters.

Lower was slightly burned on the hand by melted paint while attempting to remove the cars from the garage.

Woman Is Found Beaten To Death

Husband Was Dozing In Living Room

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP)—A young mother was bludgeoned with a four-foot piece of stove wood yesterday in her bedroom.

Her husband Milton Fuller, said he found his 28-year-old wife, her head smashed, dying beside her bed shortly after dawn. He said he had been dozing in the living room when he heard a noise and entered his wife's room. He said he saw her body topple to the floor.

She died two hours later in a Brinkley hospital. Her two children, Mary Helen, 5, and Kathy, 18 months, were sleeping in the next room when the attack occurred.

Huge Manhunt Launched

A huge manhunt was launched for a tall man with one shoe missing. Bare footprints were found in the back yard, near a woodpile, where it was believed the killer had picked up his weapon. Police Chief Frank Henderson said barefoot mud tracks were found on the kitchen floor.

State police issued a pickup order for a six-foot white man wearing a khaki overcoat and believed to be minus one shoe.

At the same time, Henderson said, "five to eight" Negroes, all former employees of the Fullers, were jailed.

Henderson said one of the Negroes wore a bloody shirt, which is being sent to Little Rock today for examination by the state medical examiner. The Negro, Henderson claims, said he bled on the shirt Friday when he got a nose bleed.

Henderson theorized that the motive of the slaying was robbery, and that Mrs. Fuller was killed

Large Crowd Hears Music Vespers Sunday

The Salem High School auditorium was filled to near-capacity Sunday afternoon for the ninth annual Christmas concert by the High School choral groups directed by Thomas E. Crothers.

The Christmas vespers featured the singing of the Salem High School Robed Choir, the Girls Chorus and Beginning Chorus.

The choir and choruses, singing separately and in combined voices, gave evidence of the able leadership of their director, Mr. Crothers. The Robed Choir and Beginning Chorus appeared on the stage in two phases of the program and the Robed Choir sang alone in two parts of the well-received program.

A piano solo number, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor," was played by Dixie Wilde. Accompanists for the concert included Miss Wilde, Jean Yarian, Joan Englemer, Carol Schaeffer and Cora Sue Needham.

Stage settings were made by the high school art classes.

5 Sisters Burned To Death In Room

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five sisters, left alone in their second-floor apartment for about 20 minutes, were burned to death last night when a flash fire trapped them in their bedroom.

George Davis Jr., 6-year-old brother of the victims, suffered third-degree burns and suffocation. He was in serious condition at South Baltimore General Hospital.

Firemen said the father, a Negro longshoreman, had left the house to go to a nearby restaurant. His wife Ruth, 26, was at a movie.

Davis saw smoke when he arrived home after an absence of 20 minutes. His rescue attempts failed when he was beaten back by intense flames and smoke.

Ten minutes elapsed before firemen could enter the bedroom. Found dead were Mildred, 10, Rosetta, 4, Wilhelmina, 2, Palestina, 15 months, and Lula, 5 months.

Firemen said the fire started around a stove pipe in the grocery below the apartment.

Pope Pius XII Weakens Today

Pontiff Consecrates Archbishop Montini

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII was reported somewhat weaker today—the first break in his slow but steady improvement.

Authoritative sources close to the 73-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said he spent a fairly restful night but apparently was feeling the strain of the consecration service yesterday for the Archbishop of Milan, Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini.

Records Blessing

The Pope on Saturday recorded a blessing lasting nearly five minutes which was broadcast at the close of the ceremony yesterday. He listened from his sickbed to the broadcast and was described as profoundly moved by it.

The message was the longest of the three—two of them recorded—which the Pope has broadcast since he rallied from his grave collapse Dec. 2 and began to improve slowly.

Vatican sources revealed that yesterday's message had to be recorded twice because the Pope's voice faltered the first time. On the version which was broadcast his voice appeared stronger than it had when he gave his two previous messages.

Physician Called Back

Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, one of four physicians who signed the last medical bulletin on the Pope's health last Thursday, was called back today from his Bologna clinic. It was expected that the Pope's personal physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, would ask him to examine the pontiff again and to check his progress thus far toward recovery from the gastric ailment which has plagued him for the past year.

The Pope's blessing for Msgr. Montini was viewed as a special mark of favor to an old friend and one of the Pope's closest associates. The 57-year-old archbishop was until his appointment recently Vatican prosecretary of state for ordinary affairs and is regarded in some Vatican circles as the Pope's most likely successor.

State To Begin To Cross Examine Doctor Today

T-Shirt Found On Beach May Have Been His, Sheppard Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard ended his direct testimony today with the statement that he has committed some "sins," which were not immediately described.

The final question put to him by his chief defense counsel, William J. Corrigan, was "Doctor, in your lifetime, have you ever committed any sins?"

Sheppard, on trial charged with murdering his wife, hesitated a moment and then said:

"Yes sir, I have succumbed to human frailties."

"You may cross examine," Corrigan said, looking at the three state's attorneys.

Prior to that Corrigan brought from Sheppard two points that may bear on police investigation of the case. They were:

1. The fact that the wrist band on the watch Sheppard was wearing on the night of his wife's murder, is now broken. The defense attorney asked if it was broken when Sheppard last wore it and whether he knew how the wrist band had been so damaged.

Sheppard replied to both questions that he did not.

T-Shirt Could Be His

2. That a T-shirt found on the beach some distance from his home could have been his.

Friends have testified the doctor was wearing a T-shirt when they last saw him and his wife, Marilyn, together some hours before she was killed. In the morning, however, Sheppard was bare from the waist up and said he does not remember what became of the T-shirt or anything about it.

Chief defense counsel William J. Corrigan reminded Sheppard today that a T-shirt was found at a private beach several hundred feet from the Sheppard home in the early stages of the investigation of the crime.

He asked Sheppard if the T-shirt had ever been shown to him before the trial started. Sheppard replied he had not seen it.

"Have you looked at it in this courtroom?" Corrigan asked.

"I certainly did," Sheppard replied emphatically.

"Is it your T-shirt?"

"It certainly could be," Sheppard replied. "I'm not sure."

Before the hearing opened, Corrigan told reporters that it might be several days before Dr. Charles Elkins, a brain specialist, would be able to testify. Elkins examined

Railroad Co. Takes Option

Negotiates For Land Sites Of 200 Acres

COLUMBIANA — The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. has taken options for the purchase of some 200 acres of land west of Columbiana. Company plans were not disclosed by representatives of its real estate department who negotiated the transaction.

Extending north from the railroad right-of-way about 1500 feet to the east-west parallel highway and west toward Leetonia on both sides of the highway, the land is at a joint just west of Valley Golf Club and route 344, or the Columbiana - Leetonia Rd. It includes portions of farmlands owned by C. R. Hollenshead, Anthony Andrich, Ryan Roller, Fred Buzzard and John Neihisel.

Some of the options are for six months and some for shorter periods. The F. C. Russell occupies a site of about 15 acres at the east end of the section of the Andrich farm east of Route 344.

SANTA CLAUS will be present with treats for the children at the Christmas party of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Firestone American Legion Post at 7 p.m. Wednesday in connection with the December meeting of the auxiliary.

Mothers are to take fifty-cent gifts for the exchange by the children and the adults will have a dollar exchange. There will also be a dollar gift exchange at the meeting of the Columbiana County Council of the auxiliary in Salem on Tuesday evening, Dec. 21. Transportation may be arranged with officers of Firestone Auxiliary.

Jack L. Guy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Guy of 133 N. Salem Man Describes 2-Year Stay In 'Oil-Booming' Venezuela

A panorama of monstrous oil derricks, building rigs, pumps and miles of thickly-lidged pipe greets Fred Dawson every day of a regular working week as the native Salmite steers throughout eastern Venezuela over tortuous rough-hewn roadways or concrete-paved superhighways.

Dawson, a salesman in the export division of the Continental Supply Co., drives to every oil field camp in the area in his daily on-the-road job. At present he is viewing his initial snowfall in two years during a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Dawson of the Albany Road, before he returns to Venezuela in mid-January.

A subsidiary of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., the Continental offices cover every country in the world.

The Oklahoma oil fields were home to Dawson for several years. During summers when he was taking time out from his studies at Bowden, Colorado's Bowden College, he eagerly sought after the rough life in the fields, and after graduation continued to work there. Continental's export division in New York claimed him for awhile until he was sent to Venezuela where the big "boom" in oil placed the country in the limelight.

The sudden transition of Venezuela from an almost primitive country to one of well-managed medical care, schools and homes is phenomenal, Dawson asserts. America's position is that of "teacher," and the policy is that eventually Venezuelans will take over as they grasp the vital "know how" of oil production.

A few nomadic Indian tribes wander throughout the country eking out an existence by hunting wildlife with archaic bows and arrows or spearing fish. A tribe which Dawson is familiar is the Guanipa Indians whose women wear trailing petticoats and whose men are colorfully clothed in wrap-around "sarongs."

Everyone in Venezuela knows what to expect of the weather, for climatically speaking, the country is sliced neatly in two—six months of rain, six months very dry Dawson says.

Anyone searching for a significant excuse to wander down Venezuela way, Dawson suggests, could point out the potentiality of the acres of available (and as yet unmined) diamond and gold mines along the Orinoco River.

Balding Woman Sues Drug Firm For $10,000

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Since April 1953, says Mrs. Maude B. Floyd, she has been almost bald. And she doesn't like it.

Mrs. Floyd has sued the Read Drug and Chemical Co. of Baltimore for $10,000. She charged that a saleswoman in the firm's Easton store, through "carelessness and negligence," sold her a home permanent preparation which made her hair fall out.

She said the clerk assured her daughter that the preparation was a "home permanent for bleached hair." But as soon as she used it, Mrs. Floyd said in her declaration filed with the Wicomico County Circuit Court Saturday, her hair fell out.

Examination of the bottle disclosed instructions not to use "if your hair is bleached, dyed or tinted," the suit said.

Jap Officials Can't Golf With Businessmen

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama's new policy of banning government officials from playing golf with private businessmen is working, the Asahi Evening News said today.

There were no high-class government cars at the popular Kawana and Sengokuhara courses yesterday, and the number of golfers dropped 20 to 30 per cent, the paper said.

Transient Admits Toledo Slaying

Says Women Always Made Fun Of Him

TOLEDO, Ohio (U) — "Women have always laughed at me. They have always made fun of me and they're afraid of me because of my looks."

Police say Thomas P. Leonard, book-nosed, tall and short, gave that explanation in admitting he fatally slashed the throat of a woman he never before had seen.

The victim was Mrs. Virginia Thayer, 36-year-old mother of two. She was slashed twice across the neck as she got into her car after a lodge meeting Thursday night.

Leonard, 34, an unemployed transient who came here a month ago from Harrisburg, Pa., was picked up last night in a small hotel. A description by a woman who saw him loitering in the street shortly before the slaying led to his arrest.

Cold and hungry, he surrendered meekly when police entered his room. His only possessions were his clothes, $1.98, and two detective magazines.

"I don't like women. But I didn't want to kill her. I only wanted to cut her," Capt. Ralph Murphy quoted him as saying.

When the killer struck, Mrs. Thayer was loading her parked car with gifts she had received at an Eastern Star officers' installation. Still clutching a plastic bag containing the formal dress she had worn at the lodge ceremony, she managed to stagger to a parking lot where an attendant phoned police.

Although she remained conscious until her death a short time later, she was unable to talk because of her wounds.

Capt. Murphy said Leonard related that he went back to his hotel after the attack, cleaned his knife with gasoline and pawned it the next morning. He had been wearing an overcoat, but threw it away when he was unable to clean off bloodstains, Murphy added.

Police at Harrisburg said Leonard served a three-month term after an indecent exposure conviction there last January. In 1942, police records show, he was arrested on suspicion of murder in Lynn, Mass., but later released.

Charges were not filed immediately.

The Christmas Story

Retold in the words of the Holy Bible

The Wise Men in Jerusalem

NOW when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, Where is he that was born King of the Jews for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him. When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled. He gathered all the chief priests and scribes together. He demanded of them where Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: for thus it is written by the prophet.

Youth Held For Arson In Fire Killing Four

HAVERHILL, Mass. (U) — A sixteen-year-old trade school student faced District Court today charged with arson and manslaughter in the death of his parents and two other persons in a flaming downtown apartment house.

Police Inspector Charles F. Turner said Richard E. La Plante, 16, admitted setting the early morning fire yesterday because "I didn't like the place and I told my folks so many times."

Burned to death as fire swept the four-story brick and wooden house were Alfred La Plante, 45; his wife Eva, 43; Fred Bacigalupo, 63; and Mahlon Cutler, 44. Some 20 others, mostly old age pensioners, fled to safety.

Dulles Surrenders

By JAY G. HAYDEN

'Pressured' Into Big 4 Talks

At his press conference Tuesday, Secretary of State Dulles finally capitulated to insistent British-French pressure for a full-dress peace negotiation with Russia as soon as the treaties providing for West German independence and rearmament are consummated.

More important, there are unmistakable indications that President Eisenhower has ranged himself on the British-French side at least to the extent of holding that there would be no great harm in exploring the chance for a more settled and peaceful coexistence of the pro- and anti-Communist worlds.

An important contributor to the American decision no doubt was the U. S. ambassador to Russia, Charles E. Bohlen, who has been talking to President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles for a week past. As announced by Dulles, Bohlen returned to Moscow Wednesday fully authorized to participate in behind-the-scenes talks, preparatory to a formal high-level conference. Even before ratification of the Western European Mutual Defense Treaties if the Russians so desire.

Prime Minister Malenkov surprisingly indicated a few days ago that one great help to East-West peace would be a return to old-fashioned secret diplomacy.

SECRETARY DULLES grudgingly conceded that informal conversations which Ambassador Bohlen has had recently with Premier Malenkov were a step in the right direction and additional meetings of the same sort would be helpful.

There are two schools of thought as to the chances for working out a live-and-let-live accommodation with the Soviet.

One of these is typified by Sir Winston Churchill, who only two months after the death of Josef Stalin in 1953 declared that the advent of new Russian rulers called for "a conference on the highest level... between the leading powers without delay." He explained:

"If there is not at the summit of nations the will to win the greatest prize and greatest honor offered to mankind, doomed responsibility will fall upon those who now possess the power to decide. At the worst the participants in the meeting could establish more intimate contacts, and at best we might have a generation of peace."

Churchill then recommended a conference "confined to the smallest number of persons and powers possible" and devoid of "ponderous or rigid agenda" or "jangles of technical details zealously contested by hordes of experts."

THIS PROPOSAL received wide support in most European countries but with two notable dissenters — the United States and Western Germany. The view of the latter pair was that there is no use talking with Russia until it shows some definite evidence of willingness to change its ways. Specifically, the U. S. State Department referred to an earlier statement by President Eisenhower that agreement by the Communists to a truce in Korea and an Austrian peace treaty "would help to pave the way toward a high-level conference."

A few months thereafter the Korean truce was achieved, but there still is no Austrian settlement; nor has there been any other notable European concession by the Russians over the nearly 20 months since Churchill's opening wedge.

Generally, Dulles remains as skeptical as ever of peace hopes unless the Russians are willing to make some advance concessions indicative of a real change of heart.

Latterly, France, under Prime Minister Mendes-France, has injected a third point of view. He agrees that there should be no new formal negotiation with Russia before the agreement for bringing Western Germany into the European defense force is signed, sealed and delivered.

But the very accomplishment of that step, Mendes-France holds, provides the ideal occasion for a showdown as to Russia's intentions.

IF THE SOVIET at that point is willing to withdraw its forces from Eastern Germany and Austria and otherwise show a peaceful disposition there still will remain plenty of time in which to minimize German rearmament or conceivably even to head it off completely.

France, of course, would like nothing better than to keep Germany divided and disarmed if this could be done without leaving Russia a greater threat to French safety.

It should be added that Germany at the moment is doing splendidly, mainly because it is free from the burden of military armament. As indicated by recent elections in Germany a majority of its people would like nothing better than to continue this profitable exemption.

It is a remarkable circumstance that no authoritative person on either side has ventured a suggestion as to exactly how an Iron Curtain line could be drawn acceptable to both sides.

Rather, the universally prevailing view seems to be that the West could not accept less than complete freedom and unification for Germany, and that if Russia dared to grant that much its whole Eastern European satellite empire would fall like a house of cards.

Our Healthiest Year

Americans experienced their healthiest year in history during 1954, and the prospects for continued good health are "excellent" for 1955.

Statistical analysis by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. showed today that in 1954 the national death rate has dropped to an all-time low of 9.2 per 1,000 population, or 5 per cent under the previous low point registered the year before. On a decade earlier in 1944, the death rate was 10.6 per 1,000 population. The country has now experienced death rates below 10 per 1,000 for seven years in succession.

The unusually favorable mortality in 1954, which is based on the experience through November, reflected in part an absence of any major outbreaks of respiratory disease, the statisticians observed.

"Noteworthy also is the fact that in 1954 the death rate from tuberculosis fell to about 10 per 100,000 population," the report continued. "Thus in a single year mortality from tuberculosis was reduced by approximately 20 per cent. As recently as 1951, tuberculosis mortality in the United States was twice as high as it was in 1954."

"Exceptionally favorable also was the record for influenza and pneumonia. The death rate from these causes was only about 25 per 100,000 in 1954, or one-fourth less than the rate for the preceding year, the early months of which had seen an outbreak of influenza.

"The death rate from poliomyelitis in 1954 was about the same as in 1953, although there was a rise in the number of cases this year. It is estimated that there will be almost 39,000 cases of poliomyelitis during 1954, compared with about 36,000 in 1953. The results of the large scale immunization with the new vaccine for the prevention of poliomyelitis still remain to be evaluated."

The reported number of cases of measles and of whooping cough during 1954 was about 50 per cent greater than in the year before. However, deaths from these conditions, as well as from scarlet fever and diphtheria, remained at a very low level during the year, according to the statisticians.

"There have been no significant changes in the death rate from the major chronic diseases," the statisticians point out. "The cancer mortality for 1954 was practically unchanged from the year before, while the death rate from cardiovascular-renal conditions showed a small reduction. Mortality from arteriosclerotic heart disease, which includes coronary artery disease, remained at about the same level in the two past years. The death record from diabetes in 1954 was somewhat lower than in 1953."

The fatal accident situation in our country improved somewhat during the year, decreases in death rates being recorded for motor vehicle accidents, home accidents, and occupational accidents. On the other hand, the homicide rate rose somewhat and suicides remained at about the same level as a year ago.

Both infant mortality and maternal mortality continued to decline to new low levels. Infant mortality fell to a rate of about 27 per 1,000 live births, while the maternal mortality rate was estimated at only about 5 per 10,000 live births. The infant mortality rate has thus been reduced by more than one-half in less than two decades, while the maternal mortality rate has dropped as much in the past six years.

SIDE GLANCES

"—Unable (Whew!) to Balance It (Unh!) Next Year"

Germany's Re-arming

By NORMAN LINDHURST

Germany's "cannon kings" of past wars are turning a cold shoulder to suggestions by the Bonn government that they get ready to make extensive production capacity available for military output.

The West German government expects to get the bulk of heavy equipment for the future German armed forces from the United States. But the Germans have been warned by American officials that the Bonn republic must provide all of the light weapons and quarter-master, communications and ordnance equipment needed by its forces.

Top American officials believe that German industry should assume a major role in Western defense. They are anxious to spread the defense production burden over Western Europe on an equitable basis.

The British in particular, want to reduce the unfair competitive advantage which German industry now enjoys in export trade through its present ability to concentrate on nonmilitary production.

The West German government has been shocked, however, by the refusal of any major Ruhr firm to make available voluntarily more than five to 10 per cent of production capacity for armaments orders.

Opposition to conversion for military production is being led by the Krupp industrial empire, whose present head, Alfred Krupp, is still embittered by his imprisonment after the war as a war criminal.

There are sound reasons for German industry's almost total disinterest in producing armaments. The most obvious is that almost every major German factory is glutted with export orders.

German exports will set a new postwar record this year—totaling nearly 5 billion dollars.

Export prospects are even rosier for 1955, and no leading German industrialist can be made to understand why he should risk getting his fingers burned turning out armaments when he can make an easy killing in foreign trade.

Conversion to military output, Ruhr industrialists argue, would be expensive and time-consuming.

It would mean costly disruption of export production.

The distaste of German industry for defense production has been heightened by the recent blunt warning of Ludwig Ehrhard, West German economic minister, that the Adenauer government intends to crack down on "rearmament profiteers reminiscent of the Nazi era."

Ehrhard said that steps would be taken to prevent rearmament from becoming a bonanza for German big business. Military orders, Ehrhard added, will be placed strictly according to the competitive rules of free enterprise and care will be taken that small business gets its fair share of arms orders.

Nor has German industry forgotten that after World War II armaments plants in Germany were hit harder than any other branch of industry by unemployment, dismantling and production restrictions.

Not a few of the German industrialists now being approached by the Bonn government served, as did Alfred Krupp, Allied prison sentences as war criminals.

There are indications that certain sectors of German industry not only will balk at participating in defense production but may even actively oppose it.

Already the German building is protesting that rearmament will paralyze civilian construction. Some 300 to 400 barracks will have to be constructed for the new German forces and considerable other military construction, including training areas, air fields, depots and offices, also will have to be rushed.

Like other branches of German industry, the building trades are gravely concerned by the severe labor shortage that looms when German rearmament gets under way.

German unemployment is now down to around 800,000, of whom approximately 200,000 are women and partially disabled persons. Most of the 600,000 fully employable males are unskilled laborers.

It is not hard for German industrialists to visualize the labor nightmare they will have when West Germany begins drafting the 500,000 men into the German armed forces set up by the Paris agreements.

Senators To Scan 'Junk Mail'

By DAVID BARNETT

Householders will get a chance to complain officially about "junk mail" early next year.

H. W. Brawley, Democratic staff member of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, says the groups will hold public hearings probably early in January, on Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield's order permitting "simplified address circulars."

The order, issued in August, 1953, requires letter carriers to dutifully place in each mailbox on their routes circulars addressed merely to "householders" or "patrons" or "occupants."

In the first year of its operation, the order increased by almost 364 million the number of pieces of third-class mail handled by the country's postmen.

And the mailmen themselves plan to do some complaining. The National Association of Letter Carriers said it had lined up congressional support for legislation banning "junk mail."

BRAWLEY SAID "pressure for a change has been terrific."

He noted that the "junk mail" order had been issued by the postmaster general and could be rescinded without congressional action.

The plan seems to be to hold hearings to get at the facts. If the committee decides the order should be changed, it can ask for action by the Post Office. If the Post Office stands pat, the committee can offer a bill to force a shutoff in the flow of "junk mail."

The position of the Post Office is this:

"Junk mail" is cheaper to handle than addressed mail because it does not have to be sorted for delivery. The service provides a simple method of direct mail advertising that stimulates business and thereby helps the whole country.

William C. Doherty, president of the letter carriers, contends that "circulars have cluttered up most Post Offices" and "first-class mail delivery is at the mercy of the frankenstein — the unaddressed circular."

He said the "junk mail" has become a "national irritant."

SOME HOUSEHOLDERS, he contends, "are refusing to accept it. Others are returning it to sender when postage is guaranteed. In many instances the patrons simply boycott the advertiser patrons are resorting to two mailboxes — a regulation receptacle for mail they want and a trash can for circular matter."

"One patron," Doherty said, "has raised the interesting legal question of illegal entry to his home, since the circulars are unsolicited, unwanted and unaddressed."

Besides all that, he says, "letter carriers are tired of being pack mules and handbill peddlers."

Prior to the "junk mail" order, advertisers bought local mailing lists to use in their direct-mail campaigns. They can now get from the Post Office a book listing all mail route numbers with the number of houses and apartments on each route. From this book, they can determine just how many circulars to pack to each mailman.

THE BIGGEST user of the new advertising system apparently is Pillsbury Mills, Inc. For this client, Marion, O., late in the summer sent out 300 tons of advertising circulars.

This unaddressed mail was given to postmasters with a timetable so that the delivery of the circulars would tie in with the company's campaigns using other advertising media.

The letter carriers contend that the Post Office loses money on third-class mail, addressed or not addressed, and that the increase caused by the "junk" mail order merely adds to the postal deficit.

Summerfield's position is that the answer should be found in higher rates. Third-class mail now moves for one and a half cents. He wants an increase to at least two cents.

Once Over

BY H. I. PHILLIPS

Smiling Through

The Liberace influence continues to disturb American firesides. Men find the famous pianist hard to take, but his smile, voice, face and gentleness go big with the womenfolks. Countless husbands are noting that their wives have begun to look at them with expressions of disappointment. Not because they are not pianists, but because they lack the ever-ready heavy-extension smile and the manner of extreme graciousness. Elmer Twitchell is the sourpuss type. A nice guy but an isolationist in the matter of broad grins for all circumstances. Mrs. Twitchell has reacted violently lately. And Elmer has been forced to adopt an anti-Liberace technique.

First of all he has put in a lot of practice smiling. He goes to a well-known smile director and gets a workout every day. He had only a class D smile to start with but worked up to Class B, which is pretty good. The class A smile may be forever beyond him, but he is no quitter. When Mr. Twitchell arrives home from work, he now bows deeply to the wife, calls on the Twitchell Deluxe grin and chirps in his sweetest tones, "Hello. It's so good to be back again. I really appreciate this opportunity to be with you."

"Thank you, thank you, thank you," he says as the wife declares she is glad to see him. "Have you had a hard day?" she may ask.

Elmer now fixes her with his wrap-around smile and does one thing and one thing only. He WINKS.

Mrs. Twitchell has become a wink addict. She loves it. "Hang up your things and let's have dinner," she says warmly to the bright new 1955 model Twitchell, "the Cheerio Special."

Elmer bows again, almost to the floor, and says, "Thank you very, very much. Thank you. I wish you could know what it means for me to come into your home like this every evening. Thank you very much indeed."

He used to ask rather bluntly, "What's in the feedbag tonight?" But no more. He now inquires ever so gently, "I know I am going to enjoy this little session very, very, very much. And I certainly hope you will enjoy it, too."

The wife brings on the bean soup. Twitchell rises again, gives another bow and smilingly expresses further gratitude.

It is when Mrs. Twitchell brings on the steak that Elmer really goes Liberace all over. He draws himself to his full height, winks, and waves his hand, baby-like.

"This ought to be good," says the wife. "I got it from my favorite butcher."

"Thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you," says Elmer, bowing once more before sitting down. (He uses a piano stool now instead of the dining-room chair.)

There is only one tough part of the routine. Elmer finds that the wife expects him to keep smiling, even when eating the steak and gnawing on the bone. It takes practice to be a steakbone smiler. He is going to take it up with his smile director. All in all Mr. Twitchell is making great strides. This morning when he slept late and the wife barked, "Get up, ya dope! You'll never make the train," he bowed, winked, grinned and said, "Thank you, thank you, thank you!"

Ford Frick thinks there will ultimately be three major leagues of eight clubs each. This will make it pretty hectic in the TV rooms on Sunday afternoon. Averell Harriman urges the Democrats to keep blaming life for everything his lieutenants say. That may be polo, but is it cricket, Averell, my lad? Joan Crawford is to get $10,000 for one night as hostess at a Las Vegas opening. Well, the strain of just saying life is generally accepted as worth a lot of money these days.

"The TV industry is to be praised for its prompt action in releasing a statement promising to bar or curb horror and crime pictures, following our probe into juvenile delinquency." — Senator Hendrickson. . . . Ya mean merely RELEASING A PRESS STATEMENT is all you hoped for!!! The Kentucky Derby purse has been raised to $125,000 for next year, with even the fourth horse getting five grand. Fair enough; we think a horse is entitled to something for rugged individualism.

Wisconsin GOP

Lauds Ike, McCarthy

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Commendation of President Eisenhower and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was voted yesterday by the Executive Committee of the Republican party of Wisconsin.

The group called for party unity and voiced regret for "the conflicts of personalities which have tended at times to divide and confuse some members of our party organization, just as similar conflicts have, historically, divided the party of opposition."

Robert M. Pierce, party chairman, said the resolution was adopted after very little debate on the controversy that came after McCarthy attacked President Eisenhower earlier this week on the issue of communism.

The Republican party of Wisconsin supported Eisenhower and McCarthy in the 1952 elections.

The resolution lauded McCarthy "for the outstanding service he rendered to his nation in focusing attention on the Communist menace" and praised the President "for bringing to Washington a climate of hostility toward Communists and Communist sympathizers in government."

Steaks Too Costly, Men Rob Restaurant

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Two men who had dined earlier on $15 steak dinners returned at closing time to a cafe here and took $3,000 at gunpoint. Owner Joseph Petrilli said the men told him "You're a good guy, Joe, but you charge too much for your steaks."

Women Of Vicinity Invited To Tea Party In Nurses Home

All women of the vicinity who are interested in the Salem hospitals of the nurses home are invited to attend a tea Jan. 13 in the Hannah E. Mullins Nurses Home, where plans were made for the affair Thursday when the Women's Auxiliary of the Salem Hospitals met.

An inspection of the home, which has been redecorated, will be a feature of the afternoon's program. Hostesses will be the new officers for 1955: President Mrs. F. R. Crowgey; first vice president, Mrs. W. F. Stevenson; second vice

Home Rebekahs Meet With Mrs. McCormick

Mrs. John McCormick was hostess to 14 members of Past Noble Grand Association of Home Rebekah Lodge at the Thursday evening Christmas party in her home on W. 3rd St.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Nelson Baunach, the incoming president for 1955, Mrs. Edward Alexander, presided at the business session when the women collected money to send to the Odd Fellow home at Springfield.

The refreshment table was decorated with a white crenoline Christmas tree, Santa and sleigh, lighted by tall white tapers. Hostesses assisting Mrs. McCormick were Mrs. A. H. Schropp, Mrs. James Fife and Mrs. Matt Melitschka. The next party will be Jan. 13 at the Schropp home on W. 7th St.

Pythian Sisters Hold Dinner, Elect Officers

Members of Friendship Temple, Pythian Sisters held their Christmas dinner party Thursday night at the Coffee Cup.

Afterwards, at the regular business meeting in the Knights of Pythias Hall, the following officers were elected: Most excellent chief, Mrs. Wanda Marshall; excellent senior, Mrs. Blaine McClaskey; excellent junior, Mrs. Harry Sherwood; manager, Mrs. Ada Niederhiser; protector, Mrs. Harry Vincent; guard, Mrs. Henry Willard; treasurer, Mrs. Glen Couchie; secretary, Mrs. Gilbert Everhart; captain of degree staff, Mrs. Elizabeth Helman; and pianist, Mrs. C. W. Baxter.

A gift exchange was enjoyed and games were played. Prizes went to Mrs. Harold Close and Mrs. Louis Laurain.

The next meeting will be Dec. 23 in the K. of P. Hall.

Farmers Bank Yule Party Is Enjoyed

Officers, directors and employees of the Farmers National Bank celebrated the holiday season with their annual Christmas party at the Salem Golf Club Saturday evening.

All employees of the Salem, Lisbon and Hanover offices were present, as well as the directors of the bank, the Lisbon advisory board and the bank's legal counselors.

A turkey dinner was served to 140 guests, including husbands and wives, in the club ballroom which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The women were presented with a corsage and all the guests received gifts.

President E. M. Stephenson gave a short talk and presented each employee with a bonus. The bonus represented a full month's pay for longer and for others in proportion to their term of employment. The employees presented a gift to Mr. Stephenson.

Youngstown Girl Wed To William H. Culp

William H. Culp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Culp of RD 1, Columbiana, and Miss Dorothy Alberta Boshim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander J. Boshim of Youngstown, were married Dec. 4.

The ceremony was performed in the Indianapolis Methodist Church in Youngstown, and the church pastor, Rev. Olyn H. Hull, officiated.

After a reception in the Boshim home, the couple left on their wedding trip to New York City.

Mrs. Culp is employed in the office of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., while her husband, a Navy veteran, is associated with his father in the farm produce business.

Guests from Niles and Youngstown attended when officers were elected. Chosen were Mrs. Irvin Overholt, president; Mrs. E. K. Mills, vice president; and Mrs. Ola Shriver, secretary-treasurer.

Members presented the president, Mrs. Charles Rienehr, with a gift. Mrs. Lawrence Stohm and her social committee were in charge of arrangements.

A joint officer installation at the Niles chapter hall is planned for Monday, Jan. 17, at 7:45. Officers from Youngstown, Warren, Niles, and Salem will be installed at the battalion meeting.

Presbyterian Groups Plan Yule Meeting

The Christmas meeting for the members of the 12 committees of the Presbyterian Women's Association is scheduled for Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Members are to bring a coverdish and table service for the supper which will be arranged by Mrs. Charles Mattevi and Mrs. Joseph Needham and their December Committee.

The program will begin at 7:30 under the direction of Mrs. W. D. King. Mrs. Walter Hofmeister is arranging for the music based on the theme "Christmas in the Christian Home." A business meeting will follow the program.

Mrs. Jack Hartman

Lois McMillan Is Bride Of Jack Hartman

Making their home at Franklin Square are Mr. and Mrs. Jack LeLand Hartman whose marriage Sunday, Dec. 5, at 2:30 p.m. occurred in St. Jacob's Evangelical and Reformed Church, south of Salem.

The bride is the former Lois Ann McMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odis McMillan of the Lisbon Rd., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hartman of California.

Officiating in the service was Rev. E. G. Fager, church pastor. Vivian Tullis resided at the organ.

The pink rose corsage worn by the bride complemented her street length dress of white faille. Matron of honor was Mrs. Don Miller, the bride's cousin. She wore an aqua-colored suit with black accessories and yellow roses.

Mr. Miller was best man. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McMillan chose a blue suit with black accessories and white roses.

Mr. Hartman's parents were unable to attend the wedding.

The home of the McMillans was the scene of the reception where 100 guests from Salem, Lisbon, Struthers, Warren, East Palestine and Leetonia greeted the newlyweds. Hostesses were Mrs. Glen Sell, Mrs. George Nannah and Miss Donna Nannah.

A tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was placed between lighted white tapers in crystal holders.

Mrs. Hartman was graduated from Leetonia High School and Mr. Hartman attended New Waterford schools. She is a clerk at the G. C. Murphy Co. and he is a mechanic at Middleton.

Sanors Observe 57th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ori Sanor of W. State St., while visiting five weeks with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bower of Scranton, Pa., celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary.

The Sanors, who have returned home, were married Nov. 24, 1887 by Rev. M. J. Grable, pastor of the Christian Church here at that time.

CHRISTMAS PARTY PLANNED The Sunshine Society will have its Christmas party Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harry Sherwood of the Georgetown Road.

A coverdish dinner will be followed by a gift exchange.

Area Garden Club Names Committees

A Christmas dinner was a feature of the Christmas party for the 18 members and three guests of the Damascus Garden Club Thursday at the home of Mrs. Fred Israel in Damascus.

Appointments were in keeping with the holiday season. Favors, which were Christmas bells, were the gifts to the members from the club president, Mrs. Harold Brown.

Two tables were decorated in red and green and one in aqua and gold. Guests welcomed were Mrs. Ross Wagner of Willoughby and Mrs. Glenn Bircher and Mrs. Edgard Gardner.

Mrs. Israel was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. N. C. Wilkinson and Mrs. Harold Brown. The club will continue the project to arrange flowers and make colorful treats for presentation through the year to the patients at the Valley Rest Home. The members are working on Christmas decorations for the home.

In observance of her birthday Mrs. Brown was presented a shower of cards and a decorated cake. Each member brought a Yuletide arrangement which added to the home decorations.

Mrs. Elmer Kerr won the grand prize in the white elephant benefit.

During the business session, committees appointed by Mrs. Brown are as follows: Program, Mrs. N. C. Wilkinson, Mrs. Elmer Kerr, Mrs. Bernard Ostrosky and Mrs. Harold Brown; ways and means, Mrs. L. L. Root, Mrs. Thom a Powell, Mrs. Alton Bye, Mrs. Unity Shreve and Mrs. George Stanford.

Exhibit and shows, Mrs. Ostrosky, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. R. H. Dankle, Mrs. Fred Jose; publicity and historian, Mrs. Dankle; Youngstown Forum delegates, Mrs. Shreve, Mrs. Stanford and Mrs. Bye.

Horticulture, Mrs. Frank Delzell; telephone, Mrs. Harry Weikart; Mrs. Israel; rest home, Mrs. Charles Roberts, Mrs. William Matasy; Mrs. Israel and Mrs. Ellis Steer; card remembrances, Mrs. Don Phillips; and book shelf, Mrs. Harry Weikart.

Saxon Men's Lodge Meetings Changed

When members of Branch 19, Saxon Men's Lodge met Monday night in the Saxon Hall they decided for a trial period to change the regular meeting night from the first Friday to the first Monday night of the month.

Daniel Weber presided as the following new candidates were named: Mike Lutch, Clifford Mix, Lee Cranmer, Mike Froenderfer, and Dr. Raymond Holsbach, social member. On the sick list are Andrew Hahn, John Shanker, Stephen Klausenberger, Martin Schell, Sam Krauss and Bart Tontsch.

The men voted to contribute to the Lion's sight fund and the Christmas seal program. Gifts also were presented to the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party for children of members on Dec. 23 in the clubhouse.

Plans were outlined for the New Year's Eve dance and the general election meeting was scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Dec. 19.

Martha Graf Group Makes Dinner Plans

The Martha Graf group of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church for a coverdish birthday dinner and Christmas party.

Mrs. Chester Cope will be chairman of the affair, which will feature a 50-cent gift exchange. Members are asked to bring their own table service. Dessert and coffee will be furnished by the committee.

Mrs. Clarence Bailey will have charge of the devotional service.

Emmanuel Lutheran Choir Holds Party

Twenty-four members of the Girls Choir of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church enjoyed a Christmas dinner party Thursday night in the Salem Golf Club.

Gifts were presented by the choir members to the director, Mrs. Daniel Weber, and to the organist, Miss Katherine Minth.

The evening was spent dancing to records and singing Christmas carols in the dining room, which was decorated with a large Christmas tree.

A birthday party is planned for sometime in January.

Bunker Hill Church Women Have Program

Members of the Bunker Hill Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the church Wednesday for a Christmas dinner and program which featured a gift exchange.

A corsage in the Christmas motif marked each place setting at tables decorated with sleighs and Christmas candles. The committee in charge of arrangements for the party was comprised of Mrs. Edward Ryser, Mrs. George Luigociu and Mrs. Charles Conkle.

Mrs. Harry Thomas conducted the worship service and Mrs. Lee Greenamyer was in charge of the program topic, "The Prince of Peace." The minister's wife, Mrs. Winston Smith, entertained with a vocal solo.

Mrs. Greenamyer and Mrs. Venable were appointed to prepare Christmas baskets.

The next meeting will be Jan. 13 in the church.

Christian Women's Fellowship Groups Have Yule Programs

In separate meetings, groups of the Christian Women's Fellowship portrayed the story of the Holy Family as a feature of their Christmas party programs Wednesday. Dorcas, Martha, Judith

The Martha, Dorcas and Judith groups held a joint meeting and luncheon in the church with 70 in attendance.

A program in three parts was presented as follows: The Holy Family was portrayed by Mrs. Zeno Taylor as Mary and Mrs. H. P. Kyle as Joseph. Readers were Mrs. Leroy Berry, Mrs. Harold Deitch, Mrs. Clifford Zimmerman and Mrs. Emmerson Greene. The group sang the hymn, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," with Mrs. Glenn Davis as piano accompanist.

Acting as the Wise Men and Shepherds were Mrs. Robert Schaeffer, Mrs. Warren Brown and Mrs. Frank McConner. The group sang, "Angels From the Realms of Glory."

For the offertory, Mrs. Joseph Celin sang, "There's a Song in the Air," while gifts were presented for missionaries and orphans. The program was concluded with the group singing "O Come All Ye Faithful" preceding the benediction.

Mrs. Zimmerman and Mrs. Schaeffer poured at the luncheon. The committee was comprised of Mrs. L. B. Harris, Mrs. Charles Butz, Mrs. Kyle, Mrs. Walter Hilliard, Mrs. Fred Rogers, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Ross Painter.

Esther

Nineteen members and one guest of the Esther group presented the same program for residents at the Home for Aged Women.

Mrs. Arthur Borton opened the meeting with a poem, "The Reason." The program and devotions were conducted by Mrs. Keith Heineman, Mrs. Richard Wilson, Mrs. Don Schnorrenberg, Mrs. Bruce Cox and Mrs. William Pritchard.

Mrs. Calvin Filler sang "Away in the Manger," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Virgil Neiderhiser.

Each woman at the home was presented a gift.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Inez Long, Mrs. Caryl Moores, Mrs. John Filler and Mrs. Calvin Filler.

The next meeting will be Jan. 12 at the home of Mrs. Matt Meltschka, 467 Sharp Ave.

Sarah

The Sarah group presented the same program when 23 members met in the Franklin Ave. home of Mrs. George Huston. Musical numbers were a solo by Mrs. Glenn Davis and a duet by Mrs. Chester Ping and Mrs. Gerald Koch. Mrs. Davis played piano accompaniment for the selections.

Mrs. Lou Sheen conducted the worship service. Those participating in the program were: Mrs. Huston, Mrs. Sam Lockhart, Mrs. Donald DeJane, Mrs. Vera Eschliman, Mrs. Robert Ware, Mrs. Charles Cooper, Mrs. Robert Deitz, Mrs. Charles Crawford, Mrs. Rosella Dawes, Mrs. Clarence Dressel, Mrs. Koch, Mrs. Ping and Mrs. Nelson Kyser.

The lunch committee was comprised of Mrs. Huston, Mrs. Sheen, Mrs. Chales Arnold and Mrs. Dressel.

January 12, the group will meet

Knowland said also the legislative proposals put forward by the President may determine whether the GOP wins or loses in 1956.

Eisenhower was expected to repeat some of the rejected or never-acted-on proposals he made to the GOP-dominated 83rd Congress.

Rep. Bolling (D-Mo) said yesterday he expects the Democratic-controlled Congress to move toward revising the administration's 1954 tax revision program so as "to spread the benefits of tax relief to a much broader mass of people."

But Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), debating with Bolling on an NBC television program, said he thinks the Democrats will wait to move on taxes until 1956, "which is an election year."

The two House members agreed that there is likely to be little general disagreement on foreign policy.

the accused man in the hospital on the morning of the murder.

Has Laryngitis
He returned to Cleveland from Arizona to describe Sheppard's injuries, but Corrigan said Elkins is suffering from a severe attack of laryngitis at the moment and can hardly speak.

Dr. Elkins was called to the hospital by Sheppard's family.

The 30-year-old osteopath will finish giving direct testimony today, his lawyers said.

Cross-examination is expected to start immediately and prosecution and defense estimated the case will go to the jury this week.

With an air of earnestness, Sheppard has denied that he murdered his wife. "I couldn't have done it under any circumstances," he said.

He says he loved his wife and held her in his arms, while she was sitting on his lap, a few hours before she was killed. He said a tall, "bushy haired" marauder committed the crime and twice knocked him out in the struggle that followed.

Describes Married Life
Sheppard said he was asleep downstairs when the attack occurred. He has described a happy married life, and says he and Marilyn were eagerly awaiting the birth of their second child. A son, Chip, is now seven.

Thus, his lawyers argue, the state has failed to show any reason why Sheppard should have killed his wife.

The prosecution pictures Sheppard as an unfaithful husband, and has sought to show that there was "discussion" of divorce. An au-burn-haired hospital assistant, Susan Hayes, testified on the stand that she had been intimate with him over a period of some 15 months.

Cross-examination of Sheppard is expected to bear heavily on his relations with Miss Hayes.

The murder weapon has never been found nor positively identified.

Neither has a T-shirt that friends testified Sheppard was wearing when they were in his home on the night of the murder. The doctor says he doesn't remember the shirt—but that he could easily have disposed of a blood-stained garment, had there been one, and replaced it with a clean one.

The rest of the clothing he was wearing that night shows only one blood spot—on the knee of the trousers.

Caution In Decorating Yule Trees Urged

Pointing up the importance that the Christmas tree plays in the annual Yule celebration, Fire Chief Clarence Wright appealed to Salem residents to be careful in decorating the tree.

Quoting figures released by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, Chief Wright said that faulty decorations caused a large number of disastrous fires last year.

To prevent costly mishaps, the chief recommended:

1. Choose a small tree rather than a large one.

2. Store it outdoors until a day or two before Christmas.

3. When you bring it in, stand it in water and set it in a cool part of the house, away from radiators, heaters and fireplaces. Don't let it block an exit.

4. Be sure every lighting set and electric cord you use is in good condition—no worn or frayed wires, no loose sockets.

5. When you buy new sets or cords, look for the UL label. The ones that bear it have passed Underwriters' laboratories tests for fire and shock hazards.

6. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off.

7. Ornaments should all be made of fireproof materials like metal or glass. Never decorate with cotton or paper unless they are labelled "fireproof" or "flameproof."

8. Never set up electric trains under the tree!

9. Don't let gift wrappings pile up under or near the tree.

10. Don't leave tree lights burning when no one is home.

11. From time to time, see whether needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the position of the lights.

12. When needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it—outdoors!

Fairfield School Resumes Classes
COLUMBIANA — Classes at Fairfield Centralized School, disrupted Friday by an epidemic of intestinal flu, were resumed today, T. V. Utterback, school superintendent, reported.

He said 41 of about 500 pupils are still absent and the usual rate of absenteeism is about 25.

The rapid attack of the gastrointestinal disorder spread among the student body last week and by Wednesday large numbers of sick children were taken home by Utterback and teachers.

On Thursday 86 pupils were absent when the disease reached its peak.

Dr. George B. pantera, county health commissioner, recommended the school be closed Friday until the short-lived virus disease subsided.

Accident Victims Reported Improving
Three of the four members of Salem Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, who were injured in an auto-train accident Thursday while on the way to a meeting in Youngstown, are reported improving.

Perry Robb of E. 5th St. is a patient in South Side Hospital where he is being treated for a concussion, broken nose, and fractured bones in forehead, cheek and jaw.

Elmer Anderson, high priest of the lodge here, returned home Friday from the hospital. He is recovering from leg and rib bruises. John Snyder of Beloit is confined to his home with bruises of the head. Myron Kelly, driver of the car, suffered from shock and a bump on the head.

because she awakened and recognized the intruder.

The Fuller family physician Dr. W. L. Walker reported Mrs. Fuller had not been raped, but he said there was a chance rape had been attempted.

Fuller, owner of an automobile agency in this cotton country town of about 4,000 persons, said he had awakened about 4:30 a.m., gone about three blocks downtown for a cup of coffee and the morning papers and then returned and fell asleep.

He said he had had a brief conversation with his wife before he left, asking her where her keys were.

Newsboys and an unidentified Negro woman gave state police their description of the wanted man. Two white newsboys told one story to police and a Negro boy in a separate talk gave substantially the same identification of a man seen leaving the Fuller yard.

The Negro woman said she saw a man running and looking back over his shoulder at about the estimated time of the slaying.

MOVING MONASTERY

HAS THE WANDERING MONASTERY finally come to rest at last? In 1141, King Alphonso VII of Spain built the monastery of St. Bernard of Sacramenia for the Cistercian monks. More than 800 years later, famed newspaper publisher William Randolph Hearst found it and recognized that it was one of the finest examples of Romanesque and early Gothic architecture in the world. He bought it in 1925, ordered it taken apart, stone by stone, and shipped to his estate at San Simeon, Calif. After Hearst's death in 1951, Ray Moss and W. S. Edgemon bought it. They shipped it to Florida, where it now stands in its original beauty on twenty acres of tropical gardens north of Miami. Restoration of monastery required nineteen months.

It cost some $1,500,000 to fit the 35,000 pieces together. This is the Chapter House.

Quakers Set Scoring Record With 105-58 Win Over Ursuline

Break Mark Set In 1951

Bosu High Point Scorer With 27

By LOWELL FLEISCHER

Coach John Cabas' 1954-55 Quakers opened their season Saturday night with a smashing 105-58 victory over Youngstown Ursuline before an opening night crowd of between 1,300 and 1,400 fans in the local gym.

The 105 points tallied by the Quakers broke the old school record established in 1951 when the Cabasmen defeated the Louisville Tigers 98-62.

Soon after the start of the fourth frame Saturday night the Salem High School student fans began to chant "We want 100." The Quakers went into the final quarter with a commanding 82-41 lead. Bob Early dumped in the locals' 100th point with less than two minutes to go in the ballgame as the Salem fans went wild.

Junior Matt Klein tallied two more on fouls and sophomore Ted Jackson added three more points to the Quakers' total in three free throws after the 100th point was scored.

THE CABASMEN shot a sizzling 50 per cent the first half and fell just short of that mark during the second half. Kenny Bosu was high point man for Salem with 27 markers on 11 field goals and five free throws. Five Quakers made the double digit scoring column.

Dale Middeker had 14 points for Salem, followed by Rich Hunter with 12 and Captain Harry Baird and Larry Stoffer with 10 points each. Jack Alexander, having a little trouble with his shooting, tallied nine markers; Matt Klein, eight; Ted Jackson, seven; Jerry Myers, six; and Bob Early, two.

Frank Saunders paced the Ursuline attack with 16 points, followed by Paul McGuire's 14 markers.

Salem managed a total of 36 field goals to 22 for Ursuline, and the locals made 33 foul shots while the Irish tallied 14 free throws. Neither team scored for the first minute and a half, after which Ursuline got the first basket. After the Cabasmen knotted the score 2-2 they never fell behind again in the contest.

Salem took a 27-16 first-quarter lead and after dumping in 31 points in the second period, entered the halftime intermission 28 points ahead of Coach Tom Carey's cagers.

THE URSULINE players were outclassed in every department as they took their second loss of the season. Friday night the Irish bowed to Youngstown Woodrow Wilson 40-38 in a Youngstown City Series contest.

The Quakers looked outstanding for so early in the season, and their opening night shooting was phenomenal. However, they will meet many teams tougher than Ursuline during the regular season and will certainly face stronger squads in tournament competition after the first of the year.

Several things in the Quakers' favor showed up Saturday night. The locals had a good foul-shooting average. Salem also evinced a well-rounded attack with the ball handling and scoring smoothly distributed among the players. Saturday night also proved that Cabas has a strong bench this season. After taking most of his starters out near the end, the Quakers continued to score.

Defense seemed to be the locals' weakest point. Ursuline cagers dumped in many shots they wouldn't have been able to if their boys were properly guarded.

THIS WEEK THE Quakers will play a weekend double bill, the first of five weekend double sessions. Friday night the Cabasmen will meet Rich Berryman's Columbiana Clippers at Columbiana, and Saturday will travel to Youngstown for a contest with the Woodrow Wilson Presidents.

The Presidents were handed their second loss of the season Saturday night when they were defeated by the Struthers cagers 56-36. The Clippers have a 1-2 record. After winning their opening game against Jackson-Milton, Berryman's roundballers lost two in a row, to New Waterford and Champion.

After their top games this weekend, the Quakers will face Wells-ville at home next Tuesday and then take a week off during Christmas vacation. December 28 the Quakers will go to East Palestine and Jan. 7 New Philadelphia will put in its first appearance in many years on the Salem basketball schedule.

COACH JOHN CABAS started his fifth season as head coach of the Quakers Saturday night. His four-year record here lists 46 wins, and 32 setbacks for a .590 winning percentage.

Cabas lost only Jack Gottschling, now on the Mount Union College varsity, through graduation last year, and the Quakers should go far this season, barring injuries. Last season the locals won 16 contests and dropped four, including tournament play. The locals lost out to Struthers 63-58 for a berth in the district.

Salem ended last season in 11th place in the Associated Press poll conducted by sportswriters each week. This year's basketball poll will start in a few weeks.

Local Jayvees Romp Over Ursuline 73-42

Reserve Coach Karl Zellers sent a total of 18 boys into the game Saturday night as the Salem Jayvees won their first game of the year, trouncing the Ursuline reserves 73-42.

Junior Matt Klein led the Salem attack with 21 points, followed by Bob Early's 11 markers. Twelve of the local Jayvees scored in the contest. It was the 19th victory in a row for the Salem Reserves, who went undefeated in 17 games last season and won the last contest of their 1952 campaign.

Eddie Ramm led the Ursuline scoring with 14 points.

The Quakers took a 25-9 first-quarter lead and were ahead at half time 36-21. The Quakers tossed in 29 field goals and 15 free throws, while the Irish made 14 field goals and 14 foul shots.

Browns To Put Playoff Tickets On Sale Friday

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns announced today that tickets for the Dec. 26 National Football League championship game with Detroit would go on sale Friday, Dec. 17.

The reserved seat prices are $6, $5 and $4. Mail orders will be accepted. The club said mail requests accompanied by checks or money orders, should be addressed to the Ticket Department, Cleveland Browns, 405 Leader Building, Cleveland 14, Ohio.

Deadline for acceptance of mail orders is Tuesday, Dec. 21, due to the Christmas mail rush. Season ticket holders desiring the same seats for the playoff game have until Thursday, Dec. 16, to get in their order. After that, all tickets go into the general sale list.

QUAKERS POUR IN POINTS

At top left, Ken Bosu underhands a shot toward the basket late in the third quarter for his 27th point of the evening. Bosu led the heavy Salem scoring in the Saturday night 105-58 romp over Youngstown Ursuline. At left in the picture is the Quakers' Dale Middeker. At top center, Salem's Larry Stoffer and two Ursuline players go up for a rebound in the fourth period. Bosu at right is also set to go after the ball. Jack Alexander, top right, leaps for a shot in the first quarter which rolled off the rim. Trying to head him off is Ursulines' Bob Dressler. Fighting for a rebound early in the second quarter are the Quakers' Stoffer and John Bogan of Ursuline shown middle left. Ready to try for the ball are Alexander, left, Middeker, center, Harry Baird, right, and Bosu (23). At right, the scoreboard clock just couldn't make it. After Bob Early scored the Quakers' 100th point, the scorekeeper was forced to start back over again at 1 as the scoreboard would only go to 99. The visitors' total of 57 shown is incorrect as Ursuline ended with 58. And the Quakers' 5 is 100 short of their record-breaking actual total. At bottom, Rich Hunter leaps from among a crowd of players to score in the third quarter. Attempting to halt the shot is Emil Toriello (6) and Mike Rinaldo (4).

Mount Coach Pleased With Gottschlings Play

Mount Union Basketball Coach George Hunter is well pleased with the play of last year's Salem High School basketball Captain Jack Gottschling who is playing varsity ball as a freshman at Mount this season.

Gottschling tallied eight points in Mount's first game last week and got two more Friday night.

Gottschling is described by his coach as fast and deceptive and Hunter says he will see a lot of action this year.

Browns Trounce Steelers 42-7, Clinch 5th Straight Title

Chet Hanulak Scores 3 Times

Browns Win 8 In Row After 2 Early Losses

By FRITZ HOWELL
CLEVELAND (U-P) — The Cleveland Browns looked right at home today as they owned the National Football League's Eastern Division crown for the fifth straight year.

After a shaky early-season start, in which they lost two of their first three games, Paul Brown's protégé's climaxed an eight-game winning streak yesterday by whipping Pittsburgh's Steelers 42-7.

The victory wrapped up the division title, gave the Browns the best win-loss record in the league along with the best offensive and defensive marks, and sent the Ohioans into a pro title game for the ninth time in as many tries.

After winning the now defunct All-America Conference laurels four straight years, the Browns shifted to the National loop and swept their side of the circuit five times. No other team has ever won more than four division titles in a stretch.

For the third straight year the Browns will battle the Detroit Lions for the world championship. The Lions won the big one by 17-14 in 1952 and by 17-16 a year ago. Cleveland has never beaten the Detroit club in league competition.

The championship game comes up Dec. 26, but the two clubs meet here next Sunday in a meaningless game now that both division crowns have been won. The game was postponed from Sunday, Oct. 3, to get away from the fifth scheduled contest of the Indian-Giant world series contest which wasn't played due to New York's sweep.

That postponement may have been the thing which kept the Browns among football's royalty. They had lost 28-10 to Philadelphia's Eagles the week before and appeared headed down hill, but with two weeks in which to iron out the kinks, Brown had the club ready for the Chicago Cardinals.

Then came a 55-27 loss to Pittsburgh, which the Clevelanders avenged yesterday. With two losses in three starts, Brown patched up his pass-protection pocket with McGaurice Bassett, moved Mike McCormack into the middle guard spot on offense and was on his way.

Despite the huge Pittsburgh total in the first game, yesterday's affair with the same club was no contest. In five scoring drives the Browns went a total of 269 yards in 29 plays. The other touchdown came on a 54-yard dash with an intercepted pass.

Pittsburgh's lone offensive gesture was a 47-yard scoring pass from Jim Finks to Ray Mathews, and Brown said that was caused by a mixup on his own team. Brown said:

"Pittsburgh moved into a quick double wing, and Don Paul, defensive right halfback didn't get the signal to take Mathews. He came up fast, instead of sticking with Mathews, and Mathews was all alone as he caught the ball and trotted over."

Outside of that pass Pittsburgh gained only 28 yards through the air with seven completions in 27 tries, and only 96 yards rushing. With Otto Graham connecting on his first seven throws for 137 yards, and quarterback George Ratterman and second-stringers playing the entire last half, the Browns gained 278 on the ground and 186 on aerials.

Chet Hanulak scored three of the Browns' touchdowns. He led the ground gainers with 94 yards in 12 tries.

The first four Brown touchdowns came within an eight-minute span. They marched 84 yards for the first one as the opening quarter ended, Ken Konz came up with his scoring interception on the first play of the second session, and then two fumbles were turned into "quickies." One 75-yard drive was halted by a fumble on the one-yard line, and the Steelers held for downs on the one-yard line on another occasion.

Of next Sunday's game, Brown said:

"We'll play it just as we would play any other game—we'll give it the best we have. That's the only way this club knows."

After chatting about the two early-season losses and the big comeback, precision Paul observed:

"I'd say this has been my most satisfactory season with the Browns."

Bears Trip Lions, Eagles Capture 2nd

By BARD LINDEMAN

The Associated Press
The Cleveland Browns, the most amazing team in pro football history, have captured their fifth straight division championship in the National Football League and now go after their first "world series" victory over the Detroit Lions.

Coach Buddy Parker's well-balanced Lions have defeated the Paul Brown-coached champions two years running in the post-season money game. In 1952 it was by 17-7 and last year the Lions won a thrilling finish, 17-16. The Browns won their only playoff by beating Los Angeles in 1950.

The Parker vs. Brown rivalry is added sauce for the match, for Parker-coached clubs have lost to Brown-ruled teams only once—last year's East vs. West Pro-All Star game (20-9), which annually follows the playoff.

The Lions, with their title already assured, played hot and cold against the Chicago Bears and were taken 28-24. Detroit, playing without No. 1 quarterback Bobby Layne, who is nursing a broken nose and bruises, failed with a 21-point last period. Chicago, by winning, grabbed second place in the Western Conference and finished its best season since 1950 with an 8-4 mark.

The Philadelphia Eagles grabbed second place in the Eastern Conference, overwhelming the New York Giants 29-14 with a 20-point first half while New York was held to a standstill. The Giants didn't get a point, a first down or a pass completion in the half.

Rosburg Wins Miami Open

Putting Ability Brings Him Win

MIAMI, Fla. (U-P) — Bob Rosburg, a roly-poly young man who almost wasn't there, pocketed the $2,000 first prize money in the Miami Open Golf Tournament after a display of putting that had spectators bug-eyed.

"I had decided not to come down for this one. It's a long way to Miami from California and I didn't think it would be worth the trip," the San Francisco putting perfectionist said yesterday after winning his first major tournament. "Now I'm awfully glad I changed my mind."

The chubby, 28-year-old Rosburg's putting was at a peak in the final round over the par 35-35-70, 6,620-yard Miami Springs course. His ability to stroke them in from as far as 50 feet away enabled him to vault from a tie for sixth, two strokes off the pace, into first place. His sensational 32-32-65 gave him a 273 total, 7 under par.

Bo Winger, Oklahoma City, tied for the lead with National Open champion Ed Furgol, St. Louis, and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., after three rounds, was the only one of that trio who managed to break par yesterday and his 69 gave him second place, one stroke behind Rosburg, and $1,400 prize money.

Doug Ford, Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., the 1953 winner, shot a fine 57 to pull into third place with 275. He collected $1,000.

Furgol and Kroll took 70s and tied for fourth at 276 with former Open champ Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N. C., and Pete Cooper, Tampa. Boros, the first-round pace setter, had a 69 and Cooper carded a fine 67.

One stroke back were Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y., and Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa. Each had a 68 in the final round.

Upsets Mark Cage Season

Half Of Top Ten Beaten On Saturday

By JOE REICHLER

The betting today is that no college basketball team will go through the season with fewer than two or three defeats.

The campaign is less than two weeks old and already teams tapped for outstanding court seasons have been dumped unceremoniously from the unbeaten class.

Exactly half of the top 10 teams in the Associated Press' preseason poll bit the dust for the first time Saturday. They were Duquesne (No. 3), Iowa (No. 4), Holy Cross (No. 5), Niagara (No. 8) and Notre Dame (No. 9). Indiana (No. 6) was beaten earlier in the week.

In addition, 11th-ranked Oklahoma A&M was knocked off as were 12th-rated St. Louis perennially powerful Western Kentucky, North Carolina, Fordham, Army, Texas Christian and San Francisco. Duke, Penn State, Wake Forest and Kansas State also have been beaten.

La Salle and Kentucky, one-two in last week's AP poll, still were among the unbeaten but not before they were handed real, honest-to-goodness scares. The Explorers, behind from the opening whistle, were forced into overtime before eking out a 76-75 victory over Niagara. It took a desperation shot by Bob Maples with only six seconds left for La Salle to register its fourth triumph.

Kentucky had its toughest game since it last was beaten, by St. John's in 1952, edging Xavier of Ohio 73-69 for its 27th straight. The Wildcats led by only 70-69 with less than a minute remaining.

Dayton and North Carolina State, ranked seventh and 10th respectively in the AP poll, improved their prospects with resounding victories. The Flyers of Ohio won their fourth in a row, burying Bowling Green 109-39, and the Wolfpack notched their fifth straight with a 68-53 win over Eastern Kentucky.

The biggest shock was George Washington's 71-64 annual Steel Bowl triumph over Duquesne, which admittedly was handicapped by the absence of Si Green, its spectacular scorer. Green was out with an attack of appendicitis. Joe Holup led the Colonials with 26 points.

Iowa's 97-94 loss to Missouri also came as a surprise since the Hawkeyes are favored to capture the Big Ten title.

Indiana, Big Ten defending champion, whipped Notre Dame 73-70 Saturday to hand the Irish their first home defeat since February 1952.

Holy Cross, rated one of the best teams in the East, was rocked by St. John's of Brooklyn, blowing a 35-33 halftime lead to bow 93-73. Oklahoma's Aggies suffered their first loss at the hands of Illinois 59-53.

Softball Association Meeting Set Tuesday

Quaker Frosh Eke Win Over Potters 27-26

Coach Ernest Sherman's Salem High School freshman basketball team won its first game of the season Friday night 27-26 over the East Liverpool Potters at Pottertown.

Larry Phillis paced the "little Quakers" with 10 points, followed by Danny Weber's seven marks. The locals had a total of nine field goals and nine foul shots, while East Liverpool tallied eight field goals and 10 fouls.

Coach Sherman, in his first year as freshman coach, was pleased with his squad's performance. The frosh coach said Butch Platt was outstanding on floor play for the Quakers.

African Violets Are Excellent Winter Plants

By HENRY FREE

When the average person thinks of flowering house plants, the African violet is the one that first comes to mind. Once started on the growing of this fascinating plant the desire for more leads to another and another.

The remarkable popularity of the African violet is easy to explain. It is an attractive plant with handsome foliage and delightful flowers, and remains in bloom through much of the year.

While it is rather easy to grow, it has just enough troubles to make its care interesting.

African violets prefer a loose soil, one containing about two parts garden soil, one part leaf mold or peat and one part of sand.

Fertilizing with one of the soluble fertilizers, following directions on the package is satisfactory. Excellent prepared soil is offered in handy plastic bags at the better florists and garden supply shop.

African violets can bloom almost all year 'round if they have the right conditions for best growth. First, the African violets must have the right amount of light. A north or east window is best in summer; however, in winter they can stand a south or west window.

If the leaves become pale, the plant compact, and the flowers bloom for only a short time, then they are receiving too much light.

If the leaves become large with long leaf stems and with little or no flowers, then there is too little light.

Watch the room temperature. African violets need a constant temperature of 70 to 75 degrees and not less than 65 degrees. It might be wise to move the plants from a cool window to a warm place on cold nights.

Humidity is important—the plants may thrive better in the kitchen than other rooms of the house because humidity is higher there.

Pans of water on the radiators or heaters will help. Watering is important. Never let the plants dry out. Watering from below is safest for the amateur.

Usually it is well to water once every third day; at least examine the plants that often. Keep them slightly moist at all times.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—What flowering shrubs would make an attractive planting in a three-foot space between the drive and the house? There is little other than late-afternoon sunshine.

A—Because the area between the drive and house is narrow and also receives much snow shoveled from the drive, I suggest a ground cover such as Bowles myrtle. Its blue flowers remain in bloom much of the spring and summer. To this planting you might add two or three evergreen hollies, euonymus vegetus.

Q—We have just cut down two elms killed by Dutch elm disease. Is it necessary to burn the cut logs immediately or can we pile them for winter use?

A—The beetles which carry the dread disease have burrowed inside the bark for the winter. Unless the logs are burned before late March the beetles will take wing in early spring to spread the infestation to other elms.

If you plan to burn the loss in your fireplace, spray them thoroughly with a DDT solution and make sure all debris on the ground from the cut trees is collected and burned. Incidentally, elm logs make poor firewood.

A Chesterfield collar on a tweed coat is a womanly contrast of rough and smooth textures. It's a good winter coat that will go almost anywhere.

FIREPROOF, with an entertainment deck and fireplace on the roof, this house for a small family (two bedrooms) offers an interesting departure from the ordinary. The architect specifies walls of concrete and tile, floor and roof of steel joists and concrete and windows of steel sash. There is no basement. Hot water radiant baseboard heat is suggested. This is plan 3715 by Edgar A. Payne, architect, 710 Willard St., Galesburg, Ill. The house covers about 800 square feet with widest dimensions 30 by 40.

Furniture Can Be Built Into Bedroom

Exciting new bedrooms as delightful as they are functional are helping make the housewife's life easier.

Key to this new living ease is the elimination of all movable, dust collecting furniture. In their place home planners have developed a group of space-saving trove walls.

Most delightful of the trove wall installations is the permanent installed headboard, designed for either twin or single beds. Made of warm-toned Douglas fir lumber, it becomes a part of the furniture, yet distinct in its own right.

For the early-to-bedder who likes reading himself to sleep, the headboard can be designed with tiny bookcases for books and magazines and there is room on top for reading lamps, a planter or a few art objects.

To save bruised toes and barked shins, a telephone can be plugged in beside the bed, concealed when not in use behind a small cabinet door. Depending on the tastes and ingenuity of the home planner, there can be room for a radio or small television set. Invalids find life easier and room tidying a more pleasant task with the headboards with their variety of storage space.

The same Douglas fir lumber can be used to construct built-in chests of drawers under the windows. Sometimes the window walls are paneled in the same wood as the built-ins to give added character to the bedroom.

Rubbing Methods Soften High Gloss Furniture

If you've refinished a prized piece of furniture and are disappointed by the high gloss of the shellac, lacquer or varnish finish, that's understandable. The trend these days is away from high luster toward semigloss and satin finishes.

Since almost all furniture finishes dry glossy, only a vigorous "rub-down" will produce the desired "soft" effect. There are a number of rubbing methods, but none should be used until the finishing material has hardened sufficiently. Allow a drying time of at least 24 hours.

Which method you will use depends on several considerations. Maybe you want a quickie job, maybe a very dull surface, or perhaps an exceptionally smooth one. The type of finishing material used may limit the choice of rubbing methods.

Rubbing with steel wool is one of the less time-consuming methods. Steel wool in the 2-0 and 3-0 grades may be used dry or with a lubricant, such as light motor oil. Rub only in the direction of the wood grain exerting uniform pressure. If oil is used, dip the steel wool pad in the oil and wring it out.

Inspect the work frequently to observe the progress of the rubbing. Naturally rubbing wears away the finish, and you don't want to take off more than necessary. Be particularly careful about this when rubbing edges, corner, moldings, etc.

Steel-wooling, along with sandpaper rubbing, is also used as a first step in other kinds of rubbing.

Rubbing with sandpaper produces a flat finish on shellac, lacquer or varnish. Use 5-0 wettype paper and water or oil for lubrication. Water, however, must never be used on shellac, which it will turn white. Soak the paper in the lubricant before proceeding, then follow the same procedure indicated for steel wool.

After an oil rubbing, remove all traces of oil with naphtha. This must be done before furniture wax can be applied.

Rubbing compound is particularly good for rubbing a lacquer finish. It comes in paste form in different grades. Of course the coarser grades give a duller finish than the finer ones. To shorten the work, use a medium grade first, then a fine compound to finish.

Apply rubbing compound with a felt rubbing pad obtained from the paint stores, rubbing with the grain, of course. Put more compound on the pad when it becomes gummy and inspect the progress of the rubdown frequently. When satisfied, wash off the excess compound with naphtha.

Pumice stone is to the varnish finish what rubbing compound is to the lacquer finish. Both turn out a smooth job. Depending on the grade of pumice used, finishes ranging from dull to very highly polished can be achieved. No. 2-0 grade strikes a happy medium between the extremes.

Pumice comes in powder form and should be applied with a half-inch-thick felt pad. Before use it should always be sifted to rid it of large grains that may scratch the surfaces. Some pumice is available in sifter-top cans.

Water is the best lubricant to use with pumice, but oil may be used on shellac finishes. The abrasive must be kept wet during the rubbing operation, but don't add more pumice. Again, rub only with the grain and inspect often. Clean up with a wet sponge, never a dry cloth.

Fix-It Forum

Q — What type of paint-spraying equipment would you recommend for a home workshop?

A — A piston-type compressor driven by a 1-3 h.p. electric motor, and developing maximum pressure of 40-60 pounds, is typical. A medium-priced spray gun is more than worth while, too.

Former Beloit Couple Married 60 Years

Charles Banbury and his wife, the former Celia Earley of Beloit, who were married Dec. 13, 1894 at North Benton, will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday at 2 p.m. at their home, 336 E. State St., Alliance.

The couple resided in Mayville, Mich., for four years after which they returned to Beloit, and moved later to Alliance. Mr. Banbury was freight conductor for the Pennsylvania Railroad until his retirement. Besides their daughters, Mrs. William Arnold of Alliance and Mrs. Ruth Pruitt of Dearborn, Mich., the Banburys have five grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren and a great-great-grandson. Flowers are the couple's hobby.

Concord Church Women Discuss Missionaries

A discussion regarding missionaries was featured at the Thursday night meeting of the Women's Organization of the Concord Presbyterian Church in the home of Mrs. Sam Thomas of the Calla Road.

Mrs. Andrew Burt presided at the business meeting, and the devotional service was conducted by Mrs. James Justice and Mrs. David Justice. They told of the work of the foreign missionary, Manly Purpess of Alexandria.

Lunch was served by the hostesses. The group will meet again Jan. 23, when new officers will be elected.

V.F.W. Hall Scene Of Amateur Show

Bill Cassidy was master of ceremonies at the Friday night amateur show sponsored by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in the V.F.W. Hall. Guy Mayhew, Bill Criss and Don Hoobler comprise the post committee for the amateur contests.

Highlighting the show was the acrobatic tap dance and jazz number by guest star, Bonnie Lee, television artist. Members of the committee include amateur singers and instrumentalists of the Salem area to participate in the contests which will be scheduled for Friday nights throughout the year. The best act of the year will appear on a TV program.

Amateur contests have been sponsored since last February by the V.F.W. members who made the plans for the coming events at their meetings on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Hannah Gallagher Group Has Dinner

Miss Nellie Lewis, a former missionary to India, was a guest at the birthday dinner and Christmas party of the Hannah Gallagher group of the Woman's Society of Christian Service Thursday afternoon in the Methodist Church.

The table was made attractive with red and green place mats, a popcorn Christmas tree, bright colored ornaments, pine, and red and white candles in crystal holders.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. C. W. Barker, Mrs. W. R. Crowl, Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. D. H. Rummel.

Mrs. Roland Beck presided at the business meeting and Mrs. Crowl led the devotion. Mrs. Crowl talked on the theme, "The Prince of Peace," and read two stories, "The Shack Across the Track" and "The Christmas Feast."

"The Christmas Feast" was told by Mrs. Rummel, program leader. Christmas carols concluded the program.

The next meeting will be Jan. 15 in the church.

St. Jacob's Church Plans Cantata Dec. 19

Coming events on the calendar for St. Jacob's Evangelical and Reformed Church include the presentation of the Christmas cantata, "Star in the Sky" Sunday night, Dec. 19, and the annual children's program Thursday, Dec. 23.

"Christ Is Only the Beginning" will be program theme.

A dress rehearsal will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church for the church's Sunday School children who are participating in the Christmas program.

Mrs. Elizabeth Butcher of E. 2nd St. is staying in the home of Mr. or sever alw.e. m.eulidlinr and Mrs. Earl Ruble in Winona for several weeks.

District Man To Wed Kansas Girl Feb. 19

Miss Estella Marie Staab of Russell, Kan., and Jack L. Guy of Columbiana have selected Feb. 19 as the date of their wedding.

The announcement of the couple's approaching marriage which will occur in Russell, was made today by Miss Staab's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Staab, Russell residents.

Miss Staab is a graduate of Russell High School and is employed as an accountant at the Allis Hotel in Wichita, Kan. Her fiancé is a graduate of Columbiana High School and has been stationed at McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita, for two years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Guy of Columbiana.

Lisbon

Mrs. Laura Christopher of Vine St. entertained the Saturday Night Bridge Club at her home Saturday evening. Helen O'Brien was a guest.

The annual Christmas party of the Loyal Workers Class of the First Presbyterian Church was held in the dining room Tuesday evening. A turkey dinner and gift exchange was held at 6 p.m. The class presented their teachers, Mrs. Laura Christopher and Mrs. Homer Bell with gifts.

Miss Wanda Brown of Lisbon and Marine Charles Keats of Massillon were married at 8 p.m. at the United Presbyterian Church last Saturday by the Rev. C. O. Armstrong performing the ceremony in the presence of near relatives.

Mrs. Clyde Coulter and son David of Pittsburgh are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Young, East Washington St.

Mrs. Robert Lower of N. Market St. entertained the Ramblers Club Friday evening.

Mrs. Ray Lewis and daughters, Stephanie and Renee of Franklin Square Rd. have returned from Columbus where they visited at the home of Mrs. Lewis' mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. O'Keefe.

The Tuesday Night 500 Club members will go to Heck's Restaurant for their Christmas dinner Tuesday, Dec. 14. A social evening and gift exchange will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Welsh of Pendleton St.

The general meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 14 at the church.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

When he heard the Spirit of Christmas Present prophesy Tiny Tim's death, Scrooge was seized with panic. "No, no," he cried. "Oh, no, kind Spirit! Say he will be spared!"

But Bob Cratchit's family was unmindful of the Spirit's prophecy. Generously, Bob proposed a toast to his miserly employer, Ebenezer Scrooge. Mrs. Cratchit refused to drink.

At last she gave in. "I'll drink to his health for your sake, Bob, and the Day's, not for his," she said.

8,000 COMICS BURNED

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—More than 8,000 comic books went up in flames in a weekend civic demonstration against the crime and horror types. The Junior Chamber of Commerce offered a historical, animal or nature lore book for every 10 crime or horror "comics" turned in at a downtown park.

Ike Proclaims Safe Driving Day

Nation's Motorists To Seek 24-Hour Perfect Driving Period Wednesday

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's mobile millions today headed for an extraordinary test of their ability to drive and walk safely for 24 hours.

The test comes Wednesday. It has been designated Safe Driving Day.

Motorists and pedestrians in communities across the country are being alerted by newspaper stories, radio broadcasts, modern Paul Reveries in sound trucks, parades, posters and handbills.

President Eisenhower proclaimed S-D Day. It is sponsored by the President's Action Committee for Highway Safety.

The purpose is to reduce traffic accidents greatly to show that it can be done. The reduction has not been specified. The goal, at least, is a big slash and, at best, no accidents at all.

The committee has let each community make its own how-to-do-it arrangements. Some seem to be doing very little. Others are making a major event of it. There never has been anything quite like it.

Many cities have challenged other cities to S-D Day contests. Thousands of bumper strips and stickers have been distributed.

Plans have been made to ring church bells, voice "Be careful!" pleas through loud-speakers—even to pause and pray.

An Associated Press survey shows what many communities have done and plan to do.

Washington, D. C., put on a parade of wrecked cars and 46 caskets, each representing a 1954 traffic fatality in the District of Columbia.

Cars equipped with amplifiers are touring the Seattle area, spreading the safety gospel.

Traffic officials in San Diego, Calif., circulated 100,000 safe driving pledges and arranged a parade of crash-crumbled autos for today.

School kids brought home safety letters in Providence, R. I., Literature is being distributed through schools in Kansas. Truck and bus stickers and 10,000 arm bands have been issued in Miami, Fla.

Reminders in poster, bumper strip or leaflet form have been passed out in Madison, Wis., Rochester, N. Y., and Norfolk, Richmond and Roanoke, Va.

New Mexico and Arizona will have a special low-state-wins show-down.

Rivalry of the sort associated with football has sprung up among cities. Knoxville, Tenn., challenged Chattanooga, Tenn., to an S-D Day contest.

Seattle challenged Portland, Ore. Tampa, Fla., challenged Miami, Jacksonville and St. Petersburg.

Mayor Fred Hervey of El Paso, Tex., called upon Phoenix, Ariz., to match accident records Wednesday in what has been dubbed the "first annual Safety Bowl."

Frank Murphy the Phoenix mayor, accepted. Austin, Tex., Albany, N. Y., and Sacramento, Calif., were invited to join in the competition.

St. Joseph, Mo., this week is engaged in a fewest-accidents derby with Topeka, Kan. Springfield, Mo., and Lincoln, Neb.

A 24-hour highway law enforcement program, to be handled by 8,000 state and local policemen, will be in force in Massachusetts.

Church bells will toll a reminder at 9 a. m. in Tampa, Fla. Civil Air Patrol planes equipped with loud-speakers will fly over Tampa at 11 a. m. to sound warnings.

Traffic will halt at 11 a. m. for a minute of prayer in Norfolk, Va.

A wrecked automobile and a casket will be on display in the downtown district of Schenectady, N. Y. A demolished car will be on view on the City Hall lawn in Roanoke, Va.

Motor Court Price War Begins On U.S. Rt. 1

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A motor court price war — with rooms free — begins tomorrow unless all operators here along U.S. 1 take down price signs.

J. E. Freeman, president of the Daytona Area U.S. Highway 1 Assn., reported 40 of the 90 courts between Ormond Beach and South Daytona have pledged to rent their cottages free.

"We'll continue to do so until every price sign is taken down," he added.

HALT THEATER FIRE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 1,400 patrons of the Palace Theater watched a vaudeville act on stage last night, unaware that firemen were ripping up floorboards backstage to put out a fire. The cause of the fire was undetermined.

Newsman Also Bleed

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—I wish Ernie Pyle were alive to write this story.

It is about the dedication today of the Memorial Press Center here in New York for 82 newsmen and women who died serving, as our faith goes, "a free press in a free world."

Ernie Pyle, of course, can't be there. His elfin smile is about midway between the picture of Webb Miller, the brilliant United Press correspondent killed in a blackout accident in darkened London in 1940, and Bob Capa, regarded by many as the greatest combat photographer of his time. Bob bumped into a land mine this year in Indochina, while trying to grab another of the shots he was famous for.

Like Ernie before him his good friend, he wore his luck too far. Death took in his passing a wonderful Hungarian smile, a fine artist, and a lousy poker player.

Tonight in an unusual television show all 82 will be honored between 8 and 9:30 EST over the NBC network. It is sponsored by RCA and the Ford Motor Co. but although it is a tribute to reporters who knock at portals beyond our present knowing, many of us in the newspaper business think the public will find it worth watching.

We hope it will have both heart knocks and fun in it, but naturally we must wait and see about that.

Among the performers who are contributing their art and time are Bob Hope, Sid Caesar, Martha Raye and John Daly.

As of this writing a great soldier under whom a number of the now-dead newsmen served will take part in the program. He is Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, President of the United States.

The Memorial Press Center—at 35 E. 39th St.—is the culmination of a dream of a group of 20 veteran foreign correspondents who formed the Overseas Press Club in 1939 under founder president Wythe Williams. The club, now headed by Bob Considine, has more than 1,000 members.

The hope is that the new OPC home will be a forum of ideas expressed through diplomats, returning foreign correspondents, and foreign statesmen. Just a gathering place for news-minded folk interested in world affairs—and dedicated to the expression of freedom.

I wish you could see it. It is the five-floor mansion of a 19th Century banker, modernized to make it comfortable to a degree its former owner never thought possible.

To me the most impressive thing about it is the library room, which lists without comment or explanation the 82 American men and women who lost their lives while on news jobs overseas.

This simple rollcall of honor affects many visitors, club members and next-of-kin of those listed more than a bugle call would.

While it is a parade of death, it is also a parade of pride, and in its way indexes the sacrifices made by newspapers across America to keep their readers informed.

The fund drive that made this memorial possible was headed by Edward R. Murrow, Daly, Considine and Patricia Hartwell. But it also reflects the philanthropy of copy boys, reporters, copy readers, desk editors and publishers from all parts of America.

There is no daily newspaper in this land that was not, at one time or another, represented by these 82 newsmen and women. Newspaper people generally are an inverted folk with our own peculiar pride of craft, and really expect no fame except the sometimes grudging praise we give each other, recognizing a job done well by the standards we believe in—and nobody else knows at all.

One-Day Service On Either Laundry Or Dry Cleaning, When You Need It

SHIRTS LOOK THEIR BEST THE WAY WE DO THEM!

That's because we use the equipment, supplies and methods that insure a perfect job every time. We even use a special laundry starch called Velvet Rainbow that keeps shirts wrinkle-free and comfortable much longer than ordinary household starches. Try us on your next shirt bundle, and see the difference!
